STATE OF NEW YORK, SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF ULSTER.

The Kingston Co-operative Savings & Loan Association, Plaintiff, against William C. Schryver Lumber Co., Inc., William C. Schryver, Mary E. Tucker, Philip Tucker, her husband, and Louis Dutton, Defendants. In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale duly granted in the above entitled action and entered in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on the 21st day of December, 1921, J. Lloyd R. LeFever, the undersigned, Referee in said judgment, will sell at public auction at the front door of the County Court House in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, New York, on the 15th day of January, 1922, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, the premises described in said judgment as follows, viz:—

ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND, situated in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, and State of New York, Beginning at a stake driven in the ground on the southerly side of Stephen Street, said point being 107.30 feet distant south-easterly from the intersection of the east-erly line of Foxhall Avenue with the South-erly line of Stephen Street, thence running along the southerly side of said Stephen Street on a course of south 28 degrees 25 minutes east for a distance of 50.00 feet to a stake driven in the ground at the inter-section of the westerly line of Farrelly Street; thence along the westerly line of said Farrelly Street on a course of south 11 degrees 55 minutes east for a distance of about 150.00 feet to a stake driven in the ground; thence along the easterly bounds of Lot No. 14 on a course of North 11 degrees 55 min-utes east for a distance of about 120.00 feet to the southerly side of the aforesaid Stephen Street, the point or place of be-ginning. Being part of the same premises conveyed by J. P. K. Peterson to William C. Schryver by deed dated May 15th, 1920, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Book 565 of Deeds at page 518. Being the same premises conveyed by William C. Schryver and Elsie V. Schry-ver to the mortgagee herein by deed dated December 24th, 1921, and filed in the Ulster County Clerk's Office to secure the pay-ment of a part of the purchase price of said premises. Located at the City of Kingston this 27th day of December, 1921.

Matters Before The Surrogate

In the surrogate's court, applica-tion filed with bond for letters of ad-ministration in the estate of Eliza-beth A. Becker of the village of Sar-gentville by Henry H. Lasher. Value of estate, $500 personal. Claude H. Gardner, attorney for petitioner.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

Troubles, like babies, grow larger when nursed.

Industry is born in a man, but laz-iness is acquired.

Dreams and weather predictions usually go by contraries.

Women is the tyrant that some men are not inclined to resist.

If it weren't for women and gold bricks fewer men would go broke.

Every time you avoid doing wrong you increase your inclination to do right.

Go to a friend for advice, a stran-ger for charity and to a relative for nothing.

A woman can keep a secret per-taining to anything of which she knows nothing.

When a man gives his satirical majesty his due it is usually at the expense of his other creditors.

If fortune's wheel doesn't turn to suit you, put your shoulder to the wheel and give it another whirl.

For every successful man you meet you will meet a dozen unsuccessful ones who claim to have given him a start.—Chicago News.

PUNGENT PARAGRAPHS

The way to get good wages is to do good work.

If a book is only bad enough, it is sure to be a success.

Auto mechanics with whiskers should keep away from the fan belt.

Men whose pants bag at the knees never figure in breach-of-promise suits.

It is just about impossible to be stylish and sensible at the same time.

When common sense and profes-sional ethics meet, they do not so much as nod to one another.

When a theory puts on the gloves with a condition, bet 5 to 1 on the condition winning out.

Bez Heck says: "In the matter o' coverin' sins, the confession magazine kin go around the track twice while Charity is goin' once."—Bert Moses, in Detroit Free Press.

OVERHEARD

"I do not choose to run," said the silk stocking to the garter.

"That's a new one on me," said the monkey as he scratched his back.

"That's another story," said the bricklayer, as he finished his day's work.

"Something must be done," ex-claimed the bride as she smelled her biscuits burning.

"Here's where I shine," said the young man as he showed the tailor the pincus on his serge suit.

"Here's where I show my class," re-marked the professor as he demon-strated the problem on the blackboard.

"You took the very words out of my mouth," said the singer to the phono-graph record she had just made.—Boston Transcript.

FIELD OF INDUSTRY

A bracelet has been invented to hold a ball of yarn on a knitter's wrist.

About 1,700,000 horse power is be-lieved to be obtainable from Austrian water courses.

Automobiles consume more than half of the plate glass used in the United States.

Sunflower pith, which is eight times lighter than cork, is being used in life preservers in Germany.

Aluminum is coming into general use in Germany as a substitute for copper in electrical devices.

According to geological survey fig-ures the per capita consumption of electricity in the United States has increased 70 per cent in eight years.

Comfort for the Poor

Wealth is not all and a tile floor in the bathroom is just about as cold to step on to your bare feet as linoleum of the most boreal quality.—Ohio State Journal.

Finding Happiness

Who is the happier of men? He who values the merits of others, and in their pleasure takes joy, even though it were his own.—Goethe.

SHE'S A REAL MODERN CINDERELLA

Next Best Delight

A small boy whose parents had re-peatedly instructed him not to eat candy was visiting an aunt. A dish of the forbidden sweets was sitting on the table and edging near, the lad said: "Please, auntie, just let me smell of the candy."

First Air Mail

On September 23, 1870, M. Jules-Durouf flew from Paris in a balloon with mail to Craconville, France. At that time Paris was withstanding the Prussian siege. This was probably the first successful delivery of mail by air.

The Cream of the Tobacco Crop

"The growth of LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes is a wonder-ful thing but there is a reason, I know, because I buy the Tobacco for LUCKY STRIKE. I buy 'The Cream of the Crop,' that mellow, sweet smoking Tobacco that the Farmer justly describes as I have described it above. The quality of LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes is telling. It is nat-ural that the brand should show the tremendous growth that it is showing today."

JAMES CRUZE

Director of Feature Photoplays, writes:

"In the direction of any of my big pictures, and especially during the filming of the Covered Wagon, the constant use of my voice demands that I keep it in first-class condition. As a cigarette smoker it was necessary that I find a cigarette which I could smoke without any chance of throat irritation or cough. After trying them all, I decided on Luckies. They are mild and mellow—which both protects the throat and gives real smoke enjoyment."

SAUGERTIES

Saugerties, Jan. 9.—The Rev. J. Elmer Cates of the Saugerties Methodist Church exchanged pulpits on Sunday with the Rev. Elmer A. Keith of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church of Kingston.

A grass fire raged on the fire department on Tuesday afternoon on the property of Mrs. John Haver on Cedar street.

Mrs. Ella Longshore is ill at her home on Ulster avenue.

The annual meeting of the Saugerties Elmer Cates Association was held last Wednesday evening and the following officers were elected for 1928: William L. Finger, president; George W. Shultz, treasurer; Lyman Hallbeck, first assistant; Alfred C. Myers, second assistant; Frederick Kraus, secretary; Dr. T. F. O'Dea, treasurer; William L. Finger, delegate to State Elmer Cates Convention; Dr. T. F. O'Dea, alternate; Alva Quick, delegate to Hudson V. F. A. convention; David Valk, alternate; Charles Sickles, trustee for three years.

Mrs. and Mrs. George Bartells of McDonald street are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a son.

Mrs. Jennie D. Wood of Poughkeepsie was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Snyder of West Bridge street.

Mrs. E. Van Wart, who has been ill at her home on Ulster avenue, is somewhat improved.

The following officers have been elected and installed in the Saugerties Reformed Church: Deacons, Dr. H. W. Gifford and Stewart B. Maxwell; elders, W. S. Myers, John A. Snyder and William H. Myers.

The new shirt factory in this village is expected to start operations in the near future. The owners, Caunitz and McKittick, stated that a new name is being selected and incorporation papers are being filed.

Several local friends attended the banquet of the Oshorn Hose Company held at Catskill last Wednesday evening.

The fire department was called to extinguish a grass fire in the rear of the residence of William Kelly on Market street Friday morning.

The Lutheran Sunday school has selected the following officers for 1928: The Rev. W. F. Hersh, superintendent; George Schaff, assistant superintendent; Minna Doscher, treasurer; Florence Gippert, recording secretary; Anna Doscher, financial secretary; Kenneth Branigan, assistant financial secretary; Louis Tracey, pianist; Albert Gippert, assistant pianist.

Mrs. Florence Morgan of Buffalo, N. Y., who had been visiting her parents at West Camp, underwent an operation at the Kingston City Hospital on Thursday for gall stones. Dr. Chandler and Jacobson performed the operation.

Mrs. John H. Ross of Fresno, California, is visiting her mother, Mrs. John Lowther, of this village.

The Congregational Church choir, "Singing School," which has already given two entertainments, will re-

Drifting Sand Dunes Menace to Railroads

As one makes the ascent of the Andes from the Pacific port of Mollendo, in Peru, following the line of the Southern Pacific railway, the climb to the dunes is broken by two great steps or wide-spread shelves of desert or pampa.

On the first of these steps, about two hours' steep climb from the sea, and at an altitude of from 4,000 to 5,000 feet, are located the famous drifting sand hills of Peru. The plateau is here about 20 miles wide, the air thin and dry and no trace of vegetation to be seen, only these gigantic crescent-shaped sand dunes point toward the prevailing south wind of this region. They are from 15 to 25 or even 30 feet high, 20 feet in breadth across the thick part of the crescent and sometimes 100 feet from horn to horn. So tightly is the sand packed that the feet of the horses or mules make little impression on it.

These sand hills, called menaces, travel with almost imperceptible slowness, and when they threaten the railway track they can sometimes be diverted by piling up blocks of stone in their path, otherwise the railway bed has to be altered to go around them. An analysis of the soil of this region shows that it would be very fertile if irrigated from the available snow fields of the Andes, so that it is possible there will come a day when its desolate sand dunes will cease to be.

The Bargain

A man who had purchased a used car took it back to the dealer for examination. "What is wrong with it?" he was asked. "Well, you see, explained the owner, 'every part of it makes a noise except the horn.'"

ASHOKAN.

Ashokan, Jan. 9.—Spencer Jones is helping care for his father, who is seriously ill.

"Aunt Maggie" Harkeess and Mrs. E. H. Kinney visited Mrs. Angeline Roosa and daughter, Mrs. Ray Wynn, and Mr. and Mrs. James Burgher and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Every at West Shokan Sunday. Mrs. Wynn had the misfortune to fall and dislocate her shoulder recently. Dr. Dumond is in attendance.

Edward Davis of Kingston called on friends Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Davis and sons, Junior and Bruce, spent New Year's with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis.

John Davis had his hand injured last week when butchering his big hog and is under the doctor's care.

Mrs. Olive Cudney, Mrs. Burton Christiana and Mrs. Charles Davis visited Kingston on Friday last.

"Aunt Maggie" Harkeess, Virginia Cudney and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kinney visited Mrs. Drusilla Bevier and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Myers and family at Samsonville Saturday.

HIGH WOODS.

High Woods, Jan. 9.—Mrs. Ellen Kiersted entertained her children, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Lasher, of Bearsville, and Mr. and Mrs. Gayton Miller of Saugerties for Christmas.

Willard Braby of New York spent the past week with his parents.

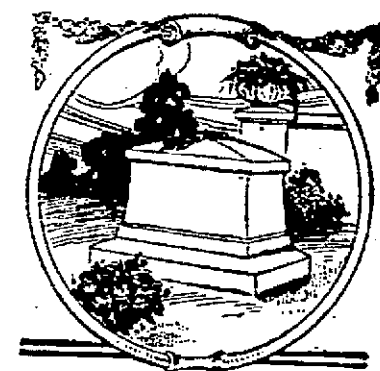

Mr. and Mrs. Michele of Albany

country recently called on Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Snyder. The Sunday school decided to keep Year's Day to cut wood for her coming year's supply. All feel it a day well spent.

Harold Braby of Baltimore, Md., grandchildren gathered at the home of Mrs. Anna C. Snyder on New Year's Day to cut wood for her coming year's supply. All feel it a day well spent.

Wilson Ackerman is ill.

Monuments at a Worthwhile Saving

THAT monument that you will have erected this spring can be purchased now at a big reduction.

Our Reason For This Big Reduction

As we are manufacturers and employ a number of men we must give these men employment during our slack winter period and are willing to sacrifice profit that we might keep our plant operating during this dull season.

Why You Should Place Your Order With Us Now

CARVING AND LETTERING WILL ALWAYS REMAIN LEGIBLE WHEN CARVED BY OUR NEW SAND BLAST METHOD.

1. Being Manufacturers you can buy through our one profit method of distribution—DIRECT FROM MANUFACTURER.
2. You avoid the spring rush and are assured of a better choice, from a larger selection NOW than will be possible after so many have selected their Family Memorial in the spring.
3. We will have more time to devote to the construction of this very important work of memory.
4. You can take advantage of these discounts by placing your order NOW to be constructed during the winter and set in the spring.

City of Kingston Hospital Meeting

and complete treasurer's report is expected for more complete information about the present financial condition of the hospital.

Dr. Alexander A. Sierra, our secretary, has been quite ill but I am glad to announce he is improving. Dr. Chandler was elected assistant secretary in his place and his report is being attached.

The report of the temporary secretary of the medical and surgical staff of the hospital, Dr. George F. Chandler, for the year ending December 31, 1927, shows that during that time there were admitted to the hospital 1,812 patients and there were 152 discharges during the year. The total number of patients cared for during the year was 2,021.

The total number of days' treatment given was 22,183 of which 596 days were free treatment. The average number of patients daily during the year 1927 was 60. The number of operations during the year was 1,398. The death rate was only 4.94 per cent and of that number who died 25 cases were moribund on admission. This is a wonderful record for an emergency hospital and shows a greater number treated than has ever before been treated in it. This is all the more remarkable because of the constant repair and enlargement of the hospital that was in progress practically all the year, so that our doctors and nurses labored at great disadvantage. Our patients understood and appreciated this disadvantage and still kept coming to us.

Our nurses are doing their work well and merit our approval. They have made light of the embarrassment the hospital has been under during the past year, which embarrassment has extended to them. We own a frame Nurses' Home opposite the hospital. We have rented a flat on Andrew street a short distance from the hospital and have also rented a large residence on West Chester street for the use of our nurses. This building is nearly one-half a mile from our hospital, but our nurses have put up with the toll and inconvenience of having their rooms so far from the hospital.

The Ladies' Auxiliary has been this year as every year a tower of strength for your hospital. I am inserting and adding to this report the very full and complete report of Mrs. Martha S. Chandler, secretary of the Ladies' Auxiliary of our hospital which was published on October 3, 1927.

Death took from the board of managers and the hospital staff during the last year, Dr. Ervin E. Norwood. He had been connected with the hospital since its incorporation and was on the building committee and executive committee when he died and had been a manager for many years.

The physicians and surgeons on our hospital staff are doing very complete up-to-date work and are accomplishing results that would at first seem impossible.

All of which is respectfully submitted by the order of the Board of Managers.

Dated, January 3, 1928.
JAMES A. BETTS,
President.

Official Newspapers.
The Kingston Daily Freeman was designated by all the Republican supervisors to publish the election notices issued by the secretary of state and official canvass for the years 1928-29. The democratic supervisors designated the Daily Leader.

A petition from the town board of Shandaken for improvement of highway from a point at Mt. Tremper to Mt. Pleasant, a distance of one mile, was read and filed. The rules of 1926-27 were on motion of Supervisor Wright J. Smith made the rules of the board for 1928-29.

County Auditors Appointed.

On motion of Supervisor Elwyn, Messrs. Rowe, Elwyn and Simpson were appointed county auditors at a salary of $350 a year. Heretofore it was $4 a day for each meeting and it is said the new fee means a large reduction in expense.

Supervisor Elwyn moved that the chair appoint a committee of six on purchase of rights of way. Carried. On motion of Supervisor Schick the chair was authorized to appoint a committee on legislation of eight members.

Supervisor Avery moved that the clerk be authorized to employ a deputy clerk and assistant clerks when necessary at an expense not to exceed $1,650. Adopted.

Supervisors Davis and Clearwater moved that $25,000 be paid by county treasurer for construction of steel and masonry garage for county on its Gage street lot. Adopted.

Rates Fixed for Auto Hire.

Supervisor Schantz moved that hereafter supervisors shall not contract to pay more than 15 cents a mile for auto use when on committee work; that owing to the present rule the Sheriff and district attorney will not be affected during their term as rates were fixed by resolution. The present mileage rate has been 20 cents for use of automobiles by committees, etc.

On motion of Supervisor Elwyn the chair was empowered to name as highway officials, Supervisors Avery, Schantz and Dustinberre.

A bill of former County Clerk Saxe for $35, one of $154.55 for insurance on snow removal machine; a bill of William Miller, $12 for taxi service; and a bill of Granville Vandemark, Marbletown, $6.08, also one of former Sheriff Wells, were ordered paid.

On motion of Supervisor Schantz the board adjourned subject to call of chair.

Sawdust for Ice

There is no reason why sawdust cannot be used year after year for packing ice. It will undoubtedly become discolored with age, but so long as it does not become mixed with dirt or other foreign matter, its usefulness as a packing material will not be affected by repeated use. Sawdust decays very slowly, where conditions are not at all favorable to fungus growth. The dust is not only cold during use but is constantly wet—factors which prevent or at least greatly retard the development of wood-destroying fungi.

Famous Buildings

Among the most famous buildings of the ancient and modern world are the Parthenon at Athens, tomb of Mausolus at Halicarnassus, the Pyramids, Egypt; the Taj Mahal, near Agra, India; the cathedral of Notre Dame, Paris; the cathedral of Milan, Italy; the cathedral of Cologne, Germany; Westminster abbey, England; the cathedral of St. John the Divine, Morristown Heights, New York city; the Woolworth building, New York city; the Lincoln Memorial, Washington, D. C.

For Her Sake

"Te gods," exclaimed Smith, who had come up just in time to see South exchanging $30 for an antiquated car. "What in heaven's name are you buying that old wreck for?"

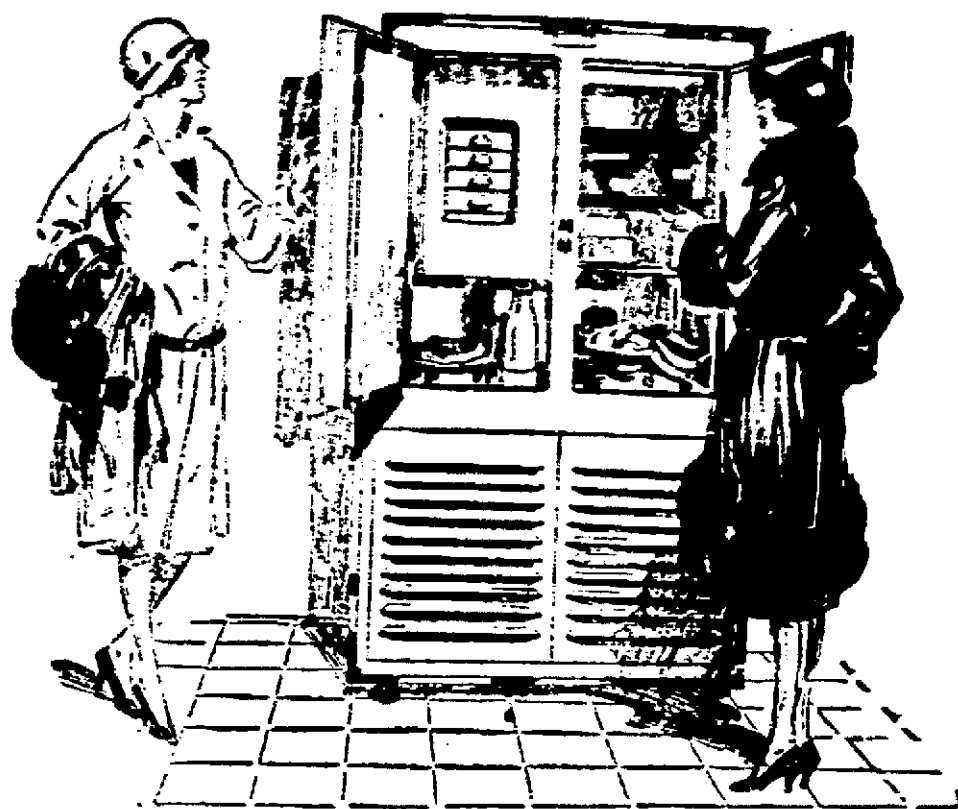

"Well," explained South, "my wife is ashamed every time she has to admit we haven't a car. I can't afford a car, but by having this thing that won't run and won't need any upkeep in the garage, she'll be able to say we have a car and there'll be no need to go into any further details."

Theme and Technique

Theme is the principal air or subject on which the musical movement is built; sometimes there are two or three in the same piece. Technique is the mechanical or technical side of playing as distinct from the artistic. The speed, correctness and skill with which a musical composition is performed.

The famous Edelweiss flower which is a delight to tourists in Switzerland is a native of Asia.

There's always something in the house

With the New Year another round of parties, luncheons and dinners is ushered in. Entertaining is simplified for the hostess with a Frigidaire to keep a supply of foods and vegetables always on hand, fresh and with no risk of spoiling. Fresh foods placed in the Frigidaire stay fresh until you are ready to use them. The cold, dry, even temperature of this electric refrigerator puts a "treasure chest" of appetizing, healthful foods in the kitchen.

Summer or winter the need for refrigeration is the same. To depend on natural refrigeration in winter—the back porch, the cellar or the pantry is make-shift and unhealthy. Refrigeration is necessary all year round for health and good living.

The marketing may be done once for a whole week with a Frigidaire in the house, and come what may in the form of surprise visits and unexpected guests the hostess finds herself prepared. There is always something in the house.

There is a Frigidaire model to suit every need and every purse. Frigidaires may be purchased for cash as low as $195.00. Suitable term prices may be arranged, also, whereby the first payment puts the Frigidaire in your home with its benefits of efficient winter refrigeration, and the future payments are postponed until spring.

Talking and Doing

If you don't wish a man to do a thing let him talk about it, said Thomas Carlyle, and it sounds like pretty good advice, but we often wonder how Thomas felt about it when he had no heart to get something done in and the man had already talked to him for 40 minutes.—Ohio State Journal.

Pedometer Measurement

In one form of pedometer an oscillating weight actuated by the motion of the body causes the index to advance a certain distance at each step. In many instruments an adjustment is possible to the length of the step and so the distance is directly measured.

Mass Meeting For Men Sunday

Arrangements are being rapidly completed for the big men's mass meeting to be held in St. James' church, next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

E. H. Plummer will be the presiding officer. Music will be supplied by the church choir under the arrangement of W. A. Newbirk, C. Heidebrand and J. J. Rose will have charge of the ushering. C. Ray Everett is in charge of printing and advertising. All these committees are being charged from representatives in the laymen's committee already.

at work on this project are the following: Dwight McEntee, Edward J. Mills, Irving W. Scott, A. N. Graham, H. A. Miner, W. F. Stowe, H. B. Wesley, J. W. Tetley, W. G. Newkirk, C. H. Everett, H. E. Carpenter, E. M. Hicks, Clarence Dumm, Ernest LeFever, Harry Essig and Frank Fowler.

The speaker, E. Dow Hancock, is an Ohio business man with a consuming passion for Christian service. For a number of years he was superintendent of lay activities for the state of Ohio. He was associated with the Y. M. C. A. in France during the World War. At present he is working with the Chicago area of the Methodist Church and is meeting with such unusual success that calls for continually coming from many places for his services.

With all of Mr. Hancock's experience on speakers' platforms, he is still a layman and a business man and he still speaks from that viewpoint. His appeal is said to be tremendous.

KINGSTON MEDICOS INVITED TO ALBANY

The January meeting of the Medical Society of the County of Albany will be held in the Harmanus Bleeker Library, Washington avenue and Dove street, Albany, Wednesday evening, January 11, at 8:30 sharp.

This meeting will be devoted to clinical problems dealing with infancy and young childhood. Physicians in Troy, Cobleskill, Schenectady, Amsterdam, Hudson, Hightstown and Pittsfield, Mass., are invited to attend.

Getting Mileage

Noten R. Ballentine, 14, has been spending his week-ends in hitchhiking. Since September he's traveled about 4,000 miles through Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin. Noten always gets back home in Chicago in time for school, though.

Suggestion to Scientists

Geologists have finally figured out that it has taken 300,000,000 years for the ocean to attain its present saltness. And now, if they haven't anything else to do, they might get to work on ham.—New York Evening Post.

Those in attendance were: Mrs. George Dushin, Mrs. Ward Black, Doris Black, Mrs. Oscar Smith, Miss Marguerite Smith, Mrs. Rufus Jenkins, Miss Mary Ella Ward, Mrs. Orrville Seymour, Mrs. Arthur Coy, Mrs. Ira Hyatt, Mrs. Hallock Harris, Mrs. Ellsworth Miller and the hostess, Mrs. Weygant Courter.

Members of the Clintonville Improvement Association are rehearsing for a three-act play, entitled, "A Run for Her Money," to be presented at Clintonville Community Hall, in the near future. Cast of characters and further particulars will be announced later.

Mrs. Joseph E. Hasbrouck, Jr., is a patient at Dr. Sadler's Sanitarium at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. William Decker is ill with pneumonia.

Mrs. Paul Weber was a caller at Mrs. Thomas DuBois's on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Myron Shultis and Mrs. I. Stalle were visitors in New York city Wednesday and Thursday of the past week.

Mrs. Preston Paltridge and daughter, Gloria, spent Wednesday at Mrs. A. D. Wager's.

Daniel Hasbrouck of New Paltz was a caller in this place last week.

Mrs. Weygant Courter and Mrs. Orrville Seymour attended a meeting of the Home Bureau members at New Paltz Thursday afternoon.

Sidney Laforge has bought twelve acres of the Dan Hasbrouck estate in Modena and will commence to erect a house immediately. Until the house is completed Mr. and Mrs. Laforge will live in the tenant house of Mr. Hasbrouck, near their property. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gerow and daughter, Evelyn, were callers at Mr. and Mrs. Gershom Mount's of Clintonville Wednesday evening. N. Yeager and E. E. Miller attended installation of officers of I. O. O. F. at Rosendale Thursday evening.

Arthur Seymour and George Borden were callers in Newburgh Wednesday. Mrs. Charles Rouse has been entering his mother from East Branch at her home here.

Mrs. Arthur Seymour and Mrs. John Lenton called on Mrs. Floyd Harecourt Friday afternoon. Mrs. John Moran of Gardiner visited Mrs. Weygant Courter one day last week.

BLOOMINGTON.

Bloomington, Jan. 9.—Mrs. Margery Bullock has returned to Brooklyn, where she expects to resume her position. She has been spending a couple of weeks with her father, Nathaniel Bullock, and family since her illness.

The regular monthly meeting of the society was held on Monday evening at the parsonage.

Mrs. Mary Maxwell of Creek Locks is slowly improving under the care of Dr. L. D. Thompson.

Miss Beatrice Freese visited her mother, Mrs. M. Freese, of Creek Locks, on Thursday evening.

Miss Gertrude Lambach, who had been home all last week from high school on account of being ill, returned on Sunday evening was reported somewhat better.

Tax Collector John Feasel of Rosendale is ready to take taxes at his home, but will sit at the Bloomington post office on Monday, January 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Conkling and little son, George, of Elizabeth, N. J., spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. E. L. DeGraff.

Mrs. S. Yonker of Maple Hill, who is stopping with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yonker, for some time, was taken quite seriously ill last week, but is slowly improving.

The Rev. C. V. Bedford preached on Sunday morning from Matthew 4:4 to quite a large congregation.

Only Safety in Truth

All truth is safe and nothing else is safe; and he who keeps back the truth, or withholds it from men, from motives of expedience, is either a coward or a criminal, or both.—Max Muller.

News From the World on Wheels

Harley achieved world leadership in automobile manufacturing in 1927 with a yearly output nearly 200,000 units in excess of its program of a million cars, the Chevrolet Motor Company has embarked in 1928 upon the most ambitious production and sales plans in its entire history.

Production for the year just ended totaled 1,001,524 units for a gain of more than 28 per cent over the 782,147 cars and trucks built in 1926 and 92 per cent over the 1925 production of 519,959 units. Remarkable as were its 1927 achievements, however, the outlook for 1928 looks even brighter, and this year's volume is certain to top by a comfortable margin the record high mark for 1927.

Loss by Bleaching

Cotton yarns lose from 6 to 13 per cent of the strength and 2 to 6 per cent of the weight, in the bleaching process, depending upon the type of bleach used, the type of cotton, and the various manufacturing processes.

Lesson No. 8

Question: Why is the emulsified form the more efficient way for me to realize the health-giving benefits of cod-liver oil?

Answer: Because when cod-liver oil is emulsified it is more perfectly absorbed, and does not disagree with digestion. Take

THE IMPORTANT TURKEY

MR. TURKEY GOBBLE was in the barnyard. Near him stood the Turkey Gobbler as well as many other of his relatives and barnyard friends.

"Listen to me, Turkey," he said, "for today I wish to make a speech. Gobble, gobble, gobble, I have a great deal to say."

All the turkeys gathered around Mr. Turkey Gobbler, and after he had cleared his throat and looked at all the different animals to see if they were paying attention to him, he smiled his best turkey smile, and commenced:

"All friends," he said, "it is not well to boast, but a little real pride

Mr. Turkey Gobbler Almost Bursting With Pride.

is all right. We turkeys can be justly proud.

"We are honored on the principal holidays and other state occasions. Now Turkey Pig over yonder in the pen, is never honored in such a way. His family never receive the great and beautiful compliment we do."

"I often look at them, and I say to myself that it is no wonder they are always digging in the mud with their snouts, for they cannot hold up their heads and gobble with pride as we can. Sammy Sausage, Brother Bacon, Picky Pig, Master Pink Pig, Miss Ham, Sir Percival Pork, Sir Benjamin Bacon, are all right in their way, but they are not animals of any importance. And they know it! That is why they grunt their way through life."

"Now, the ducks quack and swim and the geese cackle and make a great deal of noise and quarrel with their neighbors. That's because they're geese, of course! They don't know that creatures are far happier and have a far better time who are peasant, and who enjoy their neighbors. But then of course you can't tell by their family name what they are like!"

Mr. Turkey Gobbler cleared his throat again and after seeing that all were still listening to him, he continued: "Turkey Goat is all very well, but then, too, one can tell by his family name that he doesn't amount to much. How glad I am our family name isn't that of Goat! He will eat almost anything. There is nothing superior about his diet, and by diet, I mean his food."

"Mr. Rooster crows and makes a great fuss, but he gets pretty frightened by an automobile horn! His grandfather or great grandfather or great-great-grandfather said he made automobiles stop to see which way he was going, as he wasn't going to let them think their horns were of more importance than his crowing."

"He is of the opinion that roosters should go up and start some barnyards in the clouds just so as to show the airplanes they haven't the right to go wherever they please!"

"But he hasn't gone as yet because he hasn't heard of any Rooster airplane express going to the clouds."

"The hens cackle and make a great fuss, but they don't amount to so much. And the chickens aren't greater. But ah, we turkeys! It is not because I wish to boast, but it is because I am almost bursting with pride."

"Turkey Pig's family will do for any old breakfast. Who has set aside a special day in the year when the special food at the banquet is bacon or pork or ham? No one, and I doubt if they ever will."

"Who has set aside a special day in the year when the special food at the banquet is chicken? No one. A chicken will do for any meal at all, though I think chickens are more favored than pigs."

Chickens do mostly for lunches and dinners and suppers, and bacon is mostly for breakfast. Where is the honor in being eaten by people who're hurrying off to school or business or who're still half-asleep and not in the least appreciative? As I say, I do not wonder they grunt their way through life. But we have days set aside when we are the great and important feature of the occasion.

ALLIGERVILLE.
Alligerville, Jan. 9.—The Ladies Aid spent a very enjoyable afternoon at the home of Mrs. Russell Trowbridge last Wednesday afternoon. There were sixteen members present, three little juniors and one visitor. One new name was added to the membership.

The teachers, scholars and officers of the Reformed Sunday school are requested to meet at the church next Sunday afternoon at the usual hour, two o'clock, to try to start the Sunday school again. There is also expected to be church service at this date. Services will begin at three o'clock.

Mrs. Millie Wager, who has been spending a few weeks in this place, has returned to Jamaica, L. I.

USE YOUR HEAD

A SUCCESSFUL business man, who recently retired from membership in one of the largest business firms in this country, related the following incident to the writer: "One day the senior member of the firm, who for a long time had studiously watched the progress of my work, said to me: 'Young man you would be worth a very great deal more to me if you did not work so hard.' The young man soon discovered that what his employer meant was that the routine work, while very important and necessary, was not productive of the best results of which he was capable."

The young man had created nothing new, he had never offered an original idea for the firm's consideration, but had for many years just followed the same daily routine. Daily he tabulated statistics from information that was furnished him. As soon as he determined to have a part in creating the information instead of only tabulating it, he moved one notch higher in the scale of advancement. He toiled just as hard only along a different line. He took time enough to think. The young man soon made himself not only very valuable to the firm but also an indispensable asset and consequently was rewarded by a partnership."

The important truth which this true incident points out is the imperative necessity of using one's head as well as fingers and legs.

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS

By H. IRVING KING

STUMBLING

THE idea that it is bad luck to stumble when setting out upon any new enterprise is a very old superstition easily explained by psychology. It is one of which there are a great number—which arises from natural symbolism. Stumbling is the natural symbol of poorly directed action and the word is so employed in popular speech as: He stum'ed into a hornet's nest; to signify blundering into trouble; or "He stumbled into a good thing," to signify that he succeeded only by accident. And falling is the natural symbol of failure—as witness the popular slang: "He fell down on his job."

The primitive mind, still active in man no matter how civilized he may be, and natural superstitions, make the analogy instinctive, and hence the superstition. If a man stumbles on the threshold of a new enterprise the outcome of the enterprise is doubtful. If he stumbles and falls it is doomed to failure.

The story is well known of how William the Conqueror, mindful of superstition, when he stumbled and fell upon leaping ashore in England, answered the cry that went up from his soldiers that it was a bad omen by grabbing the sand and crying out: "I have taken seizin of this land with both hands." There is a similar story of the landing of Caesar in Africa. But if Caesar and William scorned this hoary superstition Sir Walter Scott did not. When Mungo Park, previous to his last and fatal expedition to Africa, was taking leave of Sir Walter his horse stumbled. "A bad sign," said Scott, "I shall never see him again." And he didn't. Of course, given a sufficient number of stumblings, the superstition is bound to work out sometimes. And then people say: "There! I told you so!"

Unworthy Thought

A person was summoned for driving his car beyond the speed limit.

"Now," said the magistrate, "you say you were going at only 18 miles an hour, but the constable declares you were proceeding at 20. I don't like to doubt either of you. Can you think why he declares you were going at that rate? Is there any grudge he owes you?"

"No," replied the clergyman. "I can't think of anything—unless it is that I married him three years ago."

CUSSING AND PRAYER

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE rocks were rough, we felt the crumbles tear;
 The sun beat down. The old guide wiped his brow.
 "We ought to make it in an hour from now,"
 He said, "for all we need to find us
 there
 Is just some cussin' and a lot of pray'r."

I laughed at that. I hadn't heard That pray'r and "cussin'" mixed so very well;
 And so I thought my duty was to tell
 The fellow that his language was absurd,
 And speak about religion, and the Word.

That's long ago. I walk the city streets,
 Where spiders lure the young with many a light,
 Where man's a man by day and brute by night,
 And cusses the law, and blames the law he cheats,
 Makes gold his god, and Babylon repeats.

Yet men shall hear, the hardest hearts must care,
 My mind beholds another rock-strewn path.
 May we have strength to speak our faith, and wrath,
 For now we need what once we needed
 there—
 A little cussing and a lot of pray'r.
 (© 1921, Douglas Malloch.)

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

THE "FREE LANCE"

THERE are "free lances" in many vocations, but the term is familiar especially with reference to literature.
 The man who draws no salary from any particular publishing house, who is not attached as an employee to any publication, but who sells to or accepts commissions from any who desire to engage his services for a particular piece of work, is a "free lance."

The expression is a relic of the Middle Ages, when its significance was literal. "Free lances" were unattached and roving companies of knights and men at arms who traveled from one estate to another, selling their services to any lord who would pay for their aid. In other words, they were mercenaries.

The "free lances" played their most prominent part in Italy, where they were known as condottieri. During the latter Middle Ages they were familiar in Europe, also, under the name of Braboncos, from the fact that large bands of mercenaries from Branbrant were raised by William of Ypres in 1135 for Stephen of Blois, the claimant of the English crown. The name, first applied only to the hirelings from Brabant, soon came to be employed for mercenaries in general.
 It is in the term "free lance," however, that the gentry have survived in modern speech.

Gasoline Vs. Milk

Parents who buy gasoline at the expense of a well balanced, wholesome diet for their children are usually saving up trouble at compound interest. A quart of milk per day will ultimately bring more joy and pleasure to a youngster than two or three gallons of gas and an exciting ride in the old bus.—Illinois Department of Public Health.

DANDRUFF

AND FALLING HAIR
 Dandruff is the most common skin disease. It is caused by a fungus which grows on the scalp. It can be cured by using Dandruff Cream.
 Dandruff Cream is sold in all drug stores. It is a sure cure for dandruff and falling hair.

NEW PALITZ.

New Palitz, Jan. 10.—Howard Ellinge of Chicago has been in New Palitz arranging to have restoration made to his residence which was badly damaged by fire last week.

Young people have been skating lately on the ponds near the Smiley gate house.

The regular meeting of the Dutch Guild will be held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Snyder January 12 at 3 o'clock.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Church will meet Tuesday evening with Mrs. Ida Stephens on Church street.

The Rev. Edwin D. Miner preached Tuesday evening in the Clintondale Friends' Church at the first of a series of four meetings held in Clintondale the past week which was the week of prayer.

At a meeting of the Lowe Brick Company of New Palitz held on Monday 3, the following officers were elected: Elting Harp, president; Charles A. Johnson, vice president; Daniel J. Gaffney, secretary, and treasurer.

Dewitt C. Seward, who underwent an operation at Kingston City Hospital on Tuesday is improving.

At a New Year's day party given by Mr. and Mrs. Rosell E. DuBois, the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jerome LeFevre, Miss Evelyn DuBois, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Dero, Mrs. Lanette Elling DuBois, Jesse Elling DuBois and Mrs. L. A. Osterhout.

been postponed from January 9 and 10 to January 23 and 24.

One hundred fifty people enjoyed the New Year's dance given by the Social Club in Colonial Hall on Monday night. Maisenhelder's orchestra furnished the music.

Dr. Christian A. Ruckmick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alban V. Ruckmick, of Tricor avenue, New Palitz, was one of the speakers on psychology at a meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science held last week in Nashville, Tenn.

Dr. Ruckmick told of experiments in analyzing the emotions conducted under his direction by psychologists at the University of Iowa. "So far", Mr. Ruckmick said, "we have accumulated more than 150 complete descriptions of typical emotions, like anger, fear, surprise, amusement, and joy."

Dr. Ruckmick's address was reported in the Herald Tribune for December 28. He has been instructor in psychology at a number of colleges and universities, including Amherst, Columbia, University of Illinois and Wellesley.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram P. LeFevre attended the funeral last week of Mr. LeFevre's sister, Mrs. James Hasbrouck, at Brighton, N. J.

The KITCHEN CABINET

For my part, I am not so sure at bottom that man is, as he says, the king of nature; he is far more the devastating tyrant. I believe he has many things to learn from animal societies, older than his own and of infinite variety.—Hemans Roland.

PIES AND PASTRY

A good pastry is a work of art, and the who makes it, an artist.

Plain Pastry.—Take one and one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-third of a cupful of lard. Mix the lard and flour well, cutting it in with a knife. Moisten with cold water and roll out; this makes two crusts.

Date Pie.—Cook one-third of a pound of dates in a pint of milk 20 minutes, using a double boiler. Strain and rub through a sieve, then add two eggs, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt. Bake as a custard pie.

Mock Cherry Pie.—Chop fine one cupful of cranberries, add two-thirds of a cupful of raisins, one cupful of sugar and one cupful of water, a pinch of salt, two tablespoonfuls of flour, one-teaspoonful of vanilla. Bake in two crusts.

Pumpkin Pie.—Take one and one-fourth cupfuls of well-cooked pumpkin, one-fourth of a cupful of brown sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one egg, seven-eighths of a cupful of milk, one-fourth teaspoonful each of cinnamon, ginger, and nutmeg.

Apple Custard Pie.—Take three cupfuls of stewed apple, add one cupful of sugar and the yolks of six eggs and one-fourth teaspoonful of nutmeg; fold in the beaten whites and bake slowly. This will make two pies.

Mock Mince Pie.—Take two cupfuls each of bread crumbs, sugar and cold water, one cupful of raisins, one-half cupful of vinegar, one egg, and one teaspoonful each of cinnamon, cloves and allspice. Put all together and cook until it thickens. This amount will make two pies.

Chocolate Pie.—Mix two teaspoonfuls of cornstarch, one-fourth cupful of chocolate with one cupful of sugar and cook in boiling water until thick. Add the beaten yolks of two eggs, one teaspoonful of vanilla and one tablespoonful of butter and cook four minutes. Cover with a meringue, using the egg whites and two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Brown slightly.

Inn's Historic Stone
At the Griffin Inn, at Whitestone, stands an old stone on which the army of Edward IV are said to have sharpened their swords on the way to the battle of Barnet, on April 14, 1471.

When it was heard that the inn was to be reconstructed it was feared that this historic stone would be removed. This is not so, however; the stone is to remain on the spot on which it stood on the day of the battle.

The Griffin Inn itself was made famous by George Morland, the painter, who, on finding himself unable to pay his bill for herrings and gin, "paid" it by painting a sign for the inn. The sign was lost during a snowstorm 20 years ago.—London Answers.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

GREEN IS WELL AT THE TOP OF THE LIST OF DESIRABLE SPRING COLORS, AND IN SOFT TONES IS A LEADER IN PARIS NIGHT LIFE

Paris—in looking backward over the fashions of the last five years, it seems as though green held a permanent position of supremacy. There was not a season in which one shade or another did not rise to the premier class, and it speaks well for the lasting power of green that it is still being worn by very smart and discriminating women.

Its character, however, has changed. No longer are the vivid shades and bright emeralds supreme, for the greens that predominate are of the gray, or lichen, varieties, sage and other soft tones far more easily worn than more definite tones.

Standing makes back and legs ache

How 3/4 of the workers in the Straus Silk Mills relieve tired muscles

"... It's as good a job as any mill worker could ask—nice people to work with, good pay, fair conditions—but a factory job anywhere is bound to be hard work."

ONLY the mill workers themselves know how legs and feet can ache and how lame backs can be after a long day walking up and down a spinning frame.

Something they must have to take the ache out—to relieve the stiffness and fatigue which might otherwise make it necessary for them to miss many a day's work.

The workers in the Straus Silk Mills in Trenton are a particularly fresh, wholesome-looking lot of women. And so we asked them what they do to prevent aching and strain from standing at a spinning frame all day.

From three-quarters of them came promptly the answer, "I never use anything but Sloan's."

Everywhere the leading remedy for muscular pain

Everywhere you go you hear the same story from people whose work brings a strain on their muscles.

Read the experience of this New York woman—

"I had such a backache I didn't know what to do. I used Sloan's Liniment, and in half an hour I was better. Now, when anyone has a pain, I say, 'Use Sloan's.'"

Another woman writes—

"The pain in my back was like a knife stab and it left me helpless. Sloan's Liniment was given me to ease the pain and I am now able to do all my own work."

Sloan's Liniment is scientific—absolutely reliable because it works by the quickest, surest method known to relieve pain. It stirs up the circulation—brings new blood right to the spot where the pain is, sweeps away the cause of the trouble.

You can get it in any drug store. A bottle will last you a long time for 35 cents. Use it for—

Rheumatism Lameness
Sciatica Stiff neck
Lumbago Colds and Neuralgia congestions
Sprains and bruises

A company doctor who cures for hundreds of workers every year says: "People whose work exposes them to strain or to damp and cold usually suffer from a good deal of muscular soreness. We find that Sloan's gives them quick, positive relief."

One of the workers in the Straus Silk Mills. 3/4 of these workers said that after a long day on their feet they find Sloan's their best help for tired backs and legs

McGraw Looks For Good Season

With the addition of Ledy O'Doul and a flock of new pitchers the Giants look as good as their rivals on paper.

New York, Jan. 10 (AP).—Barring some ailing and arrow practice by the unfortunate, John McGraw believes the New York Giants will have considerably to say before the National League's 1928 campaign is crowned.

The Giants had a lot of luck last year but it was mostly bad. Injuries during the early part of the season kept baseball's "Napoleon" busy trying to devise some sort of a strategy that could keep him from being left at the post before the race really got under way. Finally the team departed and the McGrawman started an upward climb that threatened to bring both major league pennants to New York, the drive came too late, however, and the Giants were forced to trail both Pittsburgh and St. Louis.

Probably considering himself lucky to finish as high as third place, McGraw began his plans for the 1928 campaign. The addition of Ledy O'Doul, crack coast league outfielder, and of a flock of new pitchers have given the Giants "paper power" that seems the equal of that of any of their rivals.

In Terry, Hornsby, Jackson and Lindstrom, McGraw has one of the best infields in the league. The two "Andys"—Reese and Cohen—are the principal reservists. Cohen starred in the International League last summer while Reese was stilling in at third base for McGraw. The other infielders include Baxter Jordan of Charlotte, N. C., and C. R. Crawford, Greenville, N. C.

With Harper and Bush as two sure starters, McGraw is depending upon O'Doul to fill out his quota of 150 innings. Once a pitcher with the Yankees, O'Doul experienced a change of heart and took up the business of starting fires and hitting them far and often. He comes to the Giants from San Francisco. The other outfielders include Leslie Mann, that terror of southpaws, Art Jahn, once with the Chicago Cubs, and Melvin Ott, pinch hitter extraordinaire.

Indications are that the chief burden on the mound will be carried by Larry Benton, who led the league on a won and lost basis last year. Burleigh Grimes, Fred Fitzsimmons and Virgil Barnes, McGraw hopes to develop at least one more starting hurler from among Dutch Henry, Ben Cantwell, Jacksonville right-hander, "Lefty" Faulkner, Toronto star, Bill Walker, Denver southpaw, and Arthur Johnson, purchased from Norfolk. All of these saw service during the latter part of the 1927 campaign.

With Al Devoremer released, it looks like Zach Taylor and Jack Cummings will divide the catching duty, although Alfred Spohrer, a highly touted lad from Wilkes-Barre joins the team in the spring.

KANTROWITZ JUNIORS BEAT HIGHLAND FIVE

At Highland Friday night the Kantrowitz Juniors defeated the Highland quintet by a score of 30-19.

The fast floor work of the winners was too much for the Highland boys. Kantrowitz and Craig took the scoring honors, while Dawkins and Gaddis played a strong defensive game. The score at the half was Kantrowitz Juniors, 10, and Highland, 14.

WHAT HAPPENED IN THE ROPED ARENA LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

New York—Joey Kaufman, Brooklyn, won from Luis Vicentini, Chile, six rounds. Rene De Vos, Belgium, knocked out Willie Walker, New York, six rounds. Pete Sanstol, Norway, defeated Lew Goldberg, Brooklyn, six rounds.

Philadelphia—Harold Mays, Bayonne, N. J., defeated Matt Adgie, Philadelphia, ten rounds. Jake Kilrain, California, won on a foul from Will Matthews, Baltimore, eight rounds.

Boston—Ernie Schaaf, Elizabeth, N. J., defeated King Solomon, Panama, ten rounds.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Bobby Tracey, Buffalo, outpointed K. O. Kelly, Barber, Ohio, six rounds.

Wichita, Kansas—Young Striding, Bacon, Ga., defeated Chuck Higgins, Indianapolis, ten rounds.

Pittsburgh—Maxie Rosenbloom, New York, won from Garfield Johnson, ten rounds.

Warringtons Lane Game.

The Warringtons of this city lost a hard fought game in Catehill Saturday night by a score of 21 to 22. An extra five minutes had to be played, the score being 30-21 at the end of the last half.

Rickard to Pick Gene's Opponent

Tom Hines to Punch Decision Following Shelby-Henry Bout—Might Conduct Another Affair in Chicago.

New York, Jan. 10 (AP).—The choice for an opponent to box Gene Tunney in a heavyweight championship bout goes on this week with Jack Sharkey, Boston Lithuanian, sitting against Tom Hinesy of New Zealand at Madison Square Garden Friday night in a tryout for a challenger.

Promoter Tex Rickard, who holds Tunney's contract to select a rival, made known today that he hopes to reach a decision immediately after the fight. For the present, Rickard is going ahead with plans to stage the big spectacle at the Yankee Stadium in September.

Rickard said he might conduct another heavyweight championship affair in Chicago where influential parties have been after him to return. Tunney is due to leave here tomorrow for a brief visit to Dover Hall in Georgia and from there he will continue to Miami to start training. The champion was invited to remain for the Friday battle.

As Rickard will leave after the Sharkey-Henry fight for a golfing party with Tunney in Florida, an announcement of arrangements for a big fight probably will come from Rickard.

The Madison Square Garden promoter is to confer with Jack Dempsey in New York early next month at which time the Manassas Mauler is expected to definitely settle his intentions for another attempt to regain the crown.

Connie Mack to Try New Wrinkle

Philadelphia, Jan. 10 (AP).—Connie Mack, sagacious manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, is going to try a new wrinkle this year in signing up his players for the 1928 pennant dash. When the complete crew has returned signed contracts, Mack will tell the world, but until then he will keep his playing roster locked up in the safe.

"No more issuing of names of signed players in homeopathic doses," said Mack today. "We are going to be dumb until all hands have sent in the papers." The sage of Shibe Park pointed out that if by the middle of January fifteen players were announced as signing contracts, it would be easy to figure out those who had not signed. Then the fans would begin to bother Mr. Mack by demanding to know why this player or that player was not under contract, a question that sometimes causes embarrassment.

The Kantrowitz Big Five of this city spoiled the opening activities for the Mercury Five at Shandegon Hall in Allaben Saturday night, the Kantrowitz team winning 27 to 22. A good sized crowd was out to see the opening game of the season for the mountain team. It was the seventh straight win for Manager Artie Lawrence's quintet. Roy Van Buren, the flashy little forward, was again the high scorer for his team with three fields and three fouls. Wednesday night the Kantrowitz Big Five will meet the Hapnobites in a preliminary to the Fort Wayne-Kingston game at the armory. They will play half A. A. U. rules and half professional rules.

Celtics Again Win Over Fort Wayne

The Fort Wayne club, scheduled to meet Mickey Husta's Kingston representatives at the armory Wednesday night, lost another game to the Celtics at Madison Square Garden Monday night. The tally by which the Hoosiers dropped the game was 37-30. The Fort Wayneers gave the well known Shamrock quintet a strong battle but were unable to come through with the winning points.

The main factor in the loss of the contest for the club under the management of Frank Morgenweck, was inaccuracy in long range shooting. The Hoosiers missed the long shots with marked frequency. If the same failing befalls the Fort Wayne boys when they appear against Husta's quintet here the results of the Celtic game will evidently be repeated. Kingston has a defense which works remarkably well. The Metropolitan League teams found great difficulty in breaking through to score sinks. The famous Benny Borgman, noted for ability to sink the leather scored but eight points against the Celtics. He will probably be started against getting under the hoops at the armory here. Along with working splendidly in the defensive part of the game the Celtic team this season, possesses a favor of the Chandelers. The latter this system will in all probability be used against the Fort Wayne club. Sig Makofski and George Yerkes, Ewen team stars the winning rally, leather at considerable range are booked to take a big hand toward the defeat of Morgie's warriors. Of course Mickey Husta can cage the ball with little difficulty as shown on the Kingston court and Kinning along with being a valuable man on the defense can also take part in the scoring. Chadwick, Fort Wayne's center who scored two points in the last game with the Celtics, will have no little trouble keeping pace with Pat Herlihy of the Kingston quintet.

Present indications point to a record crowd at probably the fastest game on the local court this season.

PORT EWEN DEFEATS CHANDLERS, 21 TO 18

At the Y. M. C. A. court Saturday night the Port Ewen team defeated the flashy Chandler five by a score of 21-18.

The Port Ewen boys played good basketball throughout the game. Their superior passwork was a big measure in bringing victory to them. The Chandlers, handicapped by having two of their regular men laid up, did not have the team work that they displayed in former games. The score at half time was 11-9 in favor of the Chandlers. The latter held the lead by a small margin throughout the first three quarters, but the fourth quarter saw the Port Ewen team stage the winning rally. SEEK TO DEVELOP BETTER HEADLIGHTS

In an effort to develop a more satisfactory type of automobile headlight, experts at the bureau of standards in Washington are experimenting with this fantastic-looking arrangement of lights. The lights on the rear simulate lights of an approaching vehicle. The rectangular target on the right side represents an obstruction, and tests are made of the distance at which it is first visible, first with the lights of the moving car only, and then with the lights of the car carrying the target lighted. Another car, behind, carries an army type range finder which permits rapid measurements of the distance between the cars. H. H. Allen of the bureau staff is shown in the photograph.

SPARK PLUG OF
BIG IMPORTANCE

Some Attention Would Prolong Its Life and Eliminate Trouble.

The spark plug is of the greatest importance but, because of the excellent performance it gives, with hardly any attention, the average driver lets it alone. When the plug finally does go bad he simply inserts a new one and throws the old one away, thinking that it has given sufficient service for his dollar. But, as a matter of fact, a little intelligent attention to that plug would not only prolong its life, but give it added power and enable the car to run much sweeter.

Easy to Clean.

You don't have to be an ignition expert to clean a spark plug. Any one can do it with a little practice, using old plugs to experiment with at first. Because of the various grades of gasoline sold these days more and more trouble is encountered with fouling plugs. Naturally the first operation in cleaning a spark plug is to remove it from the engine cylinder. Many motorists use any old tool as long as the plug comes out. Don't do this. Get a spark plug wrench that will fit your particular type of plug and use it.

The plug is then placed in a vise and the vice jaws set up on the hexagon nut at the base of the plug. Here another good wrench must be used to remove the packing nut or gland, working it off slowly so that you won't injure either the porcelain or gasket between the porcelain and shell. Possibly your type of plug won't have this gasket. The majority do have gaskets and it is a good plan to keep new gaskets on hand along with new porcelains to replace those that are defective.

Don't Use Knife.

Now that the plug is taken apart, a rag and gasoline come into play. Remove all semblance of carbon and oil from the surface of the porcelain. Do not use a knife, file, steel scraper, sandpaper or any other abrasive substance on the plug porcelain. This porcelain is glazed and is intended by the plug manufacturer to be perfectly smooth so that carbon cannot lodge upon it easily. Consequently any abrasive that will cut this glassy surface should never be used. The gasoline and rag will do the work.

Decision Given on Back-Seat Driver

Back-seat drivers, beware! And everybody give three cheers for Supreme Court Justice Curtis. The venerable judge has decreed that, "A passenger in an automobile should sit still and say nothing, because any other course is fraught with danger. Interference by laying hold of an operating lever or by exclamation, or even by direction or inquiry, is generally to be deprecated, as in the long run the greater safety lies in letting the driver alone."

Plug and Jack Is Handy
for Auto Trouble Lamp

A plug and jack, such as used in radio sets for phones and loud speakers, can be installed in the car for use with a trouble lamp. A jack of the single-circuit type is obtained and is installed on the dashboard, or any other handy place on the car. Two or three jacks can be mounted at other points. A small hole is drilled and the jack is fastened with the large nut. This nut serves as one connection to the battery through the metal parts of the car. The other connection is made with a single wire to the battery. A phone plug is connected to the trouble lamp with an extension cord. Pushing the plug into the jack immediately lights up the lamp. When finished using it, pull out the plug.—Herman R. Walling, Brooklyn, N. Y., in Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Uniform Traffic Rules
Favored for All Cities

Illinois requires that automobile lights be dimmed when cars approach one another at night. Our neighboring Northern states permit glaring headlights at night. Peoria has parking rules of one kind and Springfield has parking rules that are very different. One city may permit left-hand turns without signals. Mechanical signals differ so much that a motorist is apt to get confused unless he is in his own city. Blowing of horns is penalized in some cities while in other cities the motorist who does not blow his horn under same circumstance is violating an ordinance. All of which illustrates the fact that traffic laws and traffic ordinances are in a confused state and that uniform traffic rules are demanded, says the Peoria (Ill.) Star.

But order may yet come out of this traffic chaos. Subcommittees appointed some time ago by the national conference on municipal traffic codes are studying the situation and are expected to be in a position to make a report early next fall. Herbert Hoover is among those interested. And when Hoover gets interested something is apt to happen. If cities can get together and suggest uniform and standardized traffic rules the states may be expected to fall in with the parade.

Leaks in Vacuum Tank
Float Easily Remedied

If the vacuum tank float leaks and becomes filled with gasoline it will not function until repairs are made. These are simple and require but little time. The cover of the tank should be removed and the float detached. To determine the position of the leaks immerse the float in hot water. The bubbles will indicate the location of the leaks. Drain the fuel from the float by punching two small holes in it if shaking fails to produce the desired result. After making certain no fuel is left in the float, solder all holes, using as little solder as is practicable.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES

Wheels that are out of alignment cause uneven wear on the tires. So do loose wheels.

When the price of autos take another drop the pedestrian prepares to take another jump.

The young girl who said she could not have been speeding 40 miles an hour, as she had only been out 20 minutes, caught the traffic cop unprepared with an answer, and he had to let her go.

Coats of Fur in Fashion Picture

Furry Used in Unique Ways to Gain Chic Effects—Winning Colors.

Coats of fur are no longer a distinction, for almost every woman who has a comfortable allowance for her wardrobe has one. Styles in this whole department of dress come and go with the whims and fancies in others, and swing back and forth between as wide extremes as they do in silhouette, design and detail.

In the new era of wealth fortunes are invested in splendid sable, ermine, mink and other wraps, which are worn by women of fashion for every occasion except that of active sports. It is no longer enough that a fur coat be just a coat, declares a fashion writer in the New York Times. It is expected to be as distinctive as a gown, and even more is demanded of it because of the cost. And from whatever part of the globe the pelts come, it is in Paris that they are worked up into the smartest, most artistic creations. All the French couturiers include furs and fur-trimmed wraps in their collections, and "Max"—otherwise Mme. LeRoy—is a recognized authority in their design.

In her atelier on one of the fashionable boulevards she has set a stage as a background, an interior in pearl gray, against which are displayed her new compositions. Some of these this year were most unusual, reflecting the season's styles in diagonal lines, complex mosaics and striking combinations. The coats made all of fur are particularly interesting because in these the designer avoids the obvious and hapless fur with as much apparent nonchalance as if it were an ordinary dress fabric. Priceless pelts are put together like tiles, or little mosaic patterns, making the silhouette of a coat or wrap as important as that of the gown. The number of tiny strips of fur sewn together to form one of these artistic creations represents in itself an achievement, and the finished article is worth a king's ransom.

Zebra Stripes in Fashion.
The sensation of the fur season presented by LeRoy is the zebra coat. This is a kid pelt dyed to represent a zebra, and a few coats are made of the genuine skin. The sharply lined black and white make, of course, a very flashy garment, one also not easily classified, since it may be worn for a great variety of occasions, from sports to evening wear. This novelty is finding a warm welcome among the younger set. Another strikingly new coat is made of a soft fur dyed in a rich shade of orange-buff with a deep shawl collar of brown fox. The shawl collar, wider and deeper than ever before, is Mme. LeRoy's own particular contribution to the season's mode. A successful example of this is shown in an evening wrap of rare beauty. It is a wrap-around dolman coat of ermine, quite simple in line, showing the fine quality of the fur. The coat sleeves, which are diagonal and luxury to an evening wrap of white ermine with a broad shawl collar and cuffs of Russian sable. In contrast to this is an all-day coat of leopard skin, on which is a hood, deep hood, a round collar and wide cuffs of fox. In between these extreme types are many others, new and smart, designed to suit the requirements and style of women of widely different means. Among them are the daytime wraps in fur. One that is the epitome of dignity and smartness is made of broadcloth of a fine quality, which is almost as supple as velvet. A new detail in this design is the sleeve, which is wide, but is drawn in to a narrow wristband and left untrimmed. The collar is a stunning affair of genuine sable made in the popular shawl model, and extends down one side to the bottom of the coat. This is one of the best models. In it is illustrated the lavish use of sable.

In which fortunes are apparently being invested.

Another of the luxury furs is Eastern mink. This, too, is used in a particularly skillful manner in the models from Max. The lines are seldom straight from collar to hem, but are fitted in diagonal sections in panels, borders and rippling borders. One of the most conspicuous creations in fur is by Mme. LeRoy in an entirely different style from those of the prevailing mode. It is a decidedly feminine model—a long cape of especially selected mink skins. They are put together to form lines that resemble tucks in curves, dipping at the back and sweeping upward toward the opening in front. Toward the bottom the cape flares and is finished in a wide scalloped edge, which is much longer at the back. An amusing and cleverly done novelty is an enormous bow of the mink with crosswise bands of the fur.

A cape of different pattern, which is especially designed to be worn over an evening gown without crushing it, is made by joining ermine in long, narrow strips in such a way that they form diagonal lines as the wrap is drawn scarf-fashion over one shoulder. A long collar is made of natural marten.

Sports Fur Coats.

Fur coats named "sports" are uncommonly interesting this season. They lack the bizarre tone of past years and are much finer, both in quality and type, and serviceable for many different occasions. Many "new" furs are presented—being the hides of the same familiar animals given novel names. Madeleine Vionnet uses a sheared goat skin dyed a golden beige. Its wide, flaring cuffs and a diagonal collar, tapering to the waist, are of goat hide that is unshorn. One hears and sees a great deal about shorn lamb, which is extremely popular for sports and daytime coats in youthful models.

To the possessors of Hudson seal coats comes the assurance that Hudson seal is to be brought back into vogue as a relief from the flood of fancy furs with which we have been deluged. Henri Verne of Paris puts collars and cuffs of the flat brown striped furs on his Hudson seal coats, just as does Grunwaldt, who further elaborates a black coat with a ladder design of mink tails running from collar to hem on the center back.

In spite of the great variety of novelty furs introduced the last few seasons one saw at the fashionable Paris gathering places last winter principally coats of mink. According to the French furriers, this is due to the innate sense of thrift of the Frenchwomen, who demand that fur coats must wear indefinitely, and is not to be taken as a guide for America, where such a fragile but attractive fur as shorn lamb, American broadtail, obtains the vogue that its beauty warrants. Either in gray or beige, with self-collars or matching fur, this fur makes many of the season's most charming coats. One of these, a straight coat in light beige broadtail, had the shawl collar and all edges bordered with an inch-and-a-half band of the same skin in brown. This same brown encircled the single deep patch pocket on the right side and also made a large flower for the lapel.

New Furs Offered.

Offerings of new furs are so varied that any of several may be carried out correct in mode. The last word is

London Turns to Relief Measures

Refugees Return to Dig Among Wreckage For Their Belongings—No Further Overflow Expected.

London, Jan. 10 (AP)—The fury of the Thames has spent itself and London today turned to measures of relief and to repairing the damage wrought by flood waters Saturday.

The tide today reached its height at 3:46 a. m. and subsided without damage. It was below Saturday's high level and experts believe that danger is past. Precautions against further deaths and destruction are being maintained and the barriers against a new rush of water were strengthened continually.

The Port of London Authority said no further overflow need be expected and refugees returned to dig among the wreckage and slime of their home for their belongings.

Art treasures in the Tate Gallery, the National Museum of Art, fared better in the flood than had been anticipated. Water colors and chalk drawings in the collection of 19,000 works by J. M. W. Turner were dried out with little loss of brilliancy.

As to the effect of the waters on oil paintings it was still too early for expert opinion. Until they are thoroughly dried it will be impossible to estimate the retouching that may be required. William Blake's picture of Admiral Nelson was the only rare work in need of extensive restoration.

Ancient Chinese Tombs Gigantic in Extent

Some 200 miles west of Peking, China, says the Pathfinder Magazine, Carl Whiting Bishop, curator of the Freer gallery, examined tombs of the North Wei dynasty, which was founded by Tartars from Mongolia and lasted from the Fourth to the Sixth century B. C. The enormous amount of labor which went into the construction of these tombs is indicated by the size of one of them. It is 80 feet high and has a circumference of nearly half a mile, being made entirely of earth. In front of this was an altar and impressive temples undoubtedly marked the site.

These temples, as is common in China, were of wood and so have disappeared. China had no stone architecture. This is a distinctive feature of Chinese civilization and explains the absence of such ruins as the Roman Colosseum, the Athenian Parthenon or the Egyptian Sphinx. The Chinese used wood altogether.

Woman, 104 Years Old, Bobs Her Hair

St. Petersburg, Fla., Jan. 10 (AP)—Bobbed hair was the present Mrs. Catherine Fenton of Jamestown, N. Y., chose to give herself today in celebration of her 104th birthday.

Her decision was in support of other very modern ideas, voiced by this winter visitor here who was born in Scotland in 1824, crossed the Atlantic in a square-rigged brigantine in 1844, shook hands with Abraham Lincoln when she was forty, looked upon the advent of kerosene lamps as dangerous substitutes for tallow tapers, and saw transportation develop from lumbering ox-carts to practical aviation.

She believes the modern women's clothes are sensible and proper. "They have freed women from bondage," she insists.

She believes in equal rights for women—"and equal responsibility, too," she added.

He organized "The Flyers, Inc." of Gloversville, and conducted a flying field here, later transferring his business to Schenectady and a few months ago from there to Albany.

Owned Clothing Store.

Currys Field, N. Y., Jan. 10 (AP)—George P. Benedict, killed with two others in an airplane crash near Canajoharie, N. Y., was the owner of a clothing store in Peoria, Ill. He had been in New York with his father, Edward P. Benedict, who operates a similar store in St. Paul, Minn.

The father went home last week after both had arranged to buy stock for their establishments, but the younger man remained behind, planning to fly to Buffalo and continue from there to Peoria by train.

Benedict served in the navy during the war but was neither aviator nor officer. Shortly after the war he learned to fly and served for a time as pilot for the Triangle Airways of Chicago. He gave up flying, however, after two years and turned all his attention to his store.

His wife and son, friends here said, were visiting her mother at Mt. Pleasant, Mich., while her husband was in New York.

There is also a very deep shawl collar, again of the same ermine. Another ermine wrap delightful in feeling and color is dyed a shade known as honey-buff. In it the skins are joined in narrow strips. The sleeves are plain, with no cuffs, and the voluminous shawl collar is made of fox dyed in the same shade as the coat. A shawl collar of this kind is used on fur coats of the wrap-around coat model. Usually it is made of a fur contrasting with that of the coat, but some of the handomest wraps shown by the house of Max and others have coat, collar and cuffs all of one fur.

Details of the case were given by the plaintiff's attorney, Mr. J. F. Smith, who stated that the defendant, Mrs. Smith, had been living with another man for some time and had abandoned the plaintiff.

The court granted the divorce on the grounds of desertion and cruelty. The plaintiff was awarded custody of the children and the right to the marital home.

SEEK TO DEVELOP BETTER HEADLIGHTS

In an effort to develop a more satisfactory type of automobile headlight, experts of the bureau of standards in Washington are experimenting with this fantastic-looking arrangement of lights. The lights on the rear simulate lights of an approaching vehicle. The rectangular target on the right side represents an obstruction, and tests are made of the distance at which it is first visible, first with the lights of the moving car only, and then with the lights of the car carrying the target lighted. Another car, behind, carries an army type range finder which permits rapid measurements of the distance between the cars. H. H. Allen of the bureau staff is shown in the photograph.

BIG IMPORTANCE

Some Attention Would Prolong Its Life and Eliminate Trouble.

The spark plug is of the greatest importance but, because of the excellent performance it gives, with hardly any attention, the average driver lets it alone. When the plug finally does go bad he simply inserts a new one and throws the old one away, thinking that it has given sufficient service for his dollar. But, as a matter of fact, a little intelligent attention to that plug would not only prolong its life, but give it added power and enable the car to run much sweeter.

Easy to Clean.

You don't have to be an ignition expert to clean a spark plug. Any one can do it with a little practice, using old plugs to experiment with at first. Because of the various grades of gasoline sold these days more and more trouble is encountered with fouling plugs.

Naturally the first operation in cleaning a spark plug is to remove it from the engine cylinder. Many motorists use any old tool as long as the plug comes out. Don't do this. Get a spark plug wrench that will fit your particular type of plug and use it. The plug is then placed in a vise and the vice jaws set up on the hexagon nut at the base of the plug. Here another good wrench must be used to remove the packing nut or gland, working it off slowly so that you won't injure either the porcelain or gasket between the porcelain and shell. Possibly your type of plug won't have this gasket. The majority do have gaskets and it is a good plan to keep new gaskets on hand along with new porcelain to replace those that are defective.

Don't Use Knife.

Now that the plug is taken apart, a rag and gasoline come into play. Remove all semblance of carbon and oil from the surface of the porcelain. Do not use a knife, file, steel scraper, sandpaper or any other abrasive substance on the plug porcelain. This porcelain is glazed and is intended by the plug manufacturer to be perfectly smooth so that carbon cannot lodge upon it easily. Consequently any abrasive that will cut this glassy surface should never be used. The gasoline and rag will do the work.

Uniform Traffic Rules
Favored for All Cities

Illinois requires that automobile lights be dimmed when cars approach one another at night. Our neighboring Northern states permit glaring headlights at night. Peoria has parking rules of one kind and Springfield has parking rules that are very different. One city may permit left-hand turns without signals. Mechanical signals differ so much that a motorist is apt to get confused unless he is in his own city. Blowing of horns is penalized in some cities while in other cities the motorist who does not blow his horn under same circumstance is violating an ordinance. All of which illustrates the fact that traffic laws and traffic ordinances are in a confused state and that uniform traffic rules are demanded, says the Peoria (Ill.) Star.

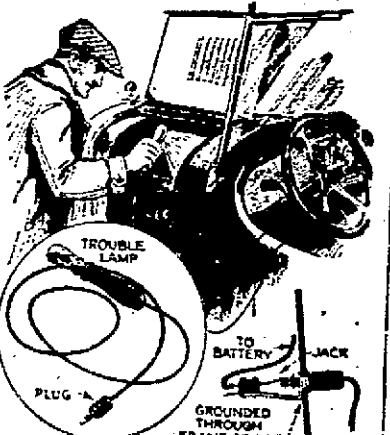

But order may yet come out of this traffic chaos. Subcommittee appointed some time ago by the national conference on municipal traffic codes are studying the situation and are expecting to be in a position to make a report early next fall. Herbert Hoover is among those interested. And when Hoover gets interested something is apt to happen. If cities can get together and suggest uniform and standardized traffic rules the states may be expected to fall in with the parade.

Decision Given on Back-Seat Driver

Back-seat drivers, beware! And everybody give three cheers for Supreme Court Justice Curtis. The venerable judge has decreed that, "A passenger in an automobile should sit still and say nothing, because any other course is fraught with danger. Interference by laying hold of an operating lever or by exclamation, or even by direction or inquiry, is generally to be deprecated, as in the long run the greater safety lies in letting the driver alone."

Plug and Jack Is Handy
for Auto Trouble Lamp

A plug and jack, such as used in radio sets for phones and loud speakers, can be installed in the car for use with a trouble lamp. A jack of the single-circuit type is obtained and is installed on the dashboard, or any other handy place on the car. Two or three jacks can be mounted at other points. A small hole is drilled and the jack is fastened with the large nut. This nut serves as one connection to the battery through the metal parts of the car. The other connection is made with a single wire to the battery. A phone plug is connected to the trouble lamp with an extension cord. Pushing the plug into the jack immediately lights up the lamp. When finished using it, pull out the plug.—Herman R. Walling, Brooklyn, N. Y., in Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Leaks in Vacuum Tank
Float Easily Remedied

If the vacuum tank float leaks and becomes filled with gasoline it will not function until repairs are made. These are simple and require but little time. The cover of the tank should be removed and the float detached. To determine the position of the leaks immerse the float in hot water. The bubbles will indicate the location of the leaks. Drain the fuel from the float by punching two small holes in it if shaking fails to produce the desired result. After making certain no fuel is left in the float, solder all holes, using as little solder as is practicable.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES

Wheels that are out of alignment cause uneven wear on the tires. So do loose wheels. When the price of autos take another drop the pedestrian prepares to take another jump. The young girl who said she could not have been speeding 40 miles an hour, as she had only been out 20 minutes, caught the traffic cop unprepared with an answer, and he had to let her go.

Coats of Fur in Fashion Picture

Furry Used in Unique Ways to Gain Chic Effects—Winning Colors.

Coats of fur are no longer a disfigurement, for almost every woman who has a comfortable allowance for her wardrobe has one. Styles in this whole department of dress come and go with the whims and fancies in others, and swing back and forth between as wide extremes as they do in silhouette, design and detail.

In the new era of wealth fortunes are invested in splendid sable, ermine, mink and other wraps, which are worn by women of fashion for every occasion except that of active sports. It is no longer enough that a fur coat be just a coat, declares a fashion writer in the New York Times. It is expected to be as distinctive as a gown, and even more is demanded of it because of the cost. And from whatever part of the globe the pelts come, it is in Paris that they are worked up into the smartest, most artistic creations. All the French couturiers include furs and fur-trimmed wraps in their collections, and "Max"—otherwise Mme. LeRoy—is a recognized authority in their design.

In her atelier on one of the fashionable boulevards she has set a stage as a background, an interior in pearl gray, against which are displayed her new compositions. Some of these this year were most unusual, reflecting the season's styles in diagonal lines, complex mosaics and striking combinations. The coats made all of fur are particularly interesting because in these the designer avoids the obvious and hardies fur with as much apparent nonchalance as if it were an ordinary dress fabric. Priceless pelts are put together like tiles, or little mosaic patterns, making the silhouette of a coat or wrap as important as that of the gown. The number of tiny strips of fur sewn together to form one of these artistic creations represents in itself an achievement, and the finished article is worth a king's ransom.

The sensation of the fur season presented by LeRoy is the zebra coat. This is a kid pelt dyed to represent a zebra, and a few coats are made of the genuine skin. The sharply lined black and white make, of course, a very flashy garment, one also not easily classified, since it may be worn for a great variety of occasions, from sports to evening wear. This novelty is finding a warm welcome among the younger set. Another strikingly new coat is made of a soft fur dyed in a rich shade of orange-beige with a deep shawl collar of brown fox. The shawl collar, wider and deeper than ever before, is Mme. LeRoy's own particular contribution to the season's mode. A successful example of this is shown in an evening wrap of fine beauty. It is a wrap-around dothan coat of ermine, quite simple in line, showing the fine quality of the fur. The coat sleeves, which are diagonal and heavy in an evening wrap of white ermine with a broad collar and cuffs of Russian sable. In contrast to this is an all-day coat of leopard skin, on which is a broad deep band, a round collar and wide cuffs of black. In between these extreme types are many others, new and smart, designed to suit the requirements and style of women of widely different tastes. Among them are the daytime wraps in fur. One that is in the epitome of dignity and smartness is made of broadcloth of a fine quality, which is almost as supple as velvet. A new detail in this design is the sleeve, which is wide, but is drawn in to a narrow wristband and left untrimmed. The collar is a stunning affair of genuine sable made in the popular shawl model, and extends down one side to the bottom of the coat. This is one of the best models. In it is illustrated the lavish use of sable.

Mink Collars and Cuffs Finish Wraps of Shorn Lamb.

In which fortunes are apparently being invested.

Another of the luxury furs is Eastern mink. This, too, is used in a particularly skillful manner in the models from Max. The lines are seldom straight from collar to hem, but are fitted in diagonal sections in panels, borders and rippling borders. One of the most conspicuous creations in fur is by Mme. LeRoy in an entirely different style from those of the prevailing mode. It is a decidedly feminine model—a long cape of especially selected mink skins. They are put together to form lines that resemble tucks in curves, dipping at the back and sweeping upward toward the opening in front. Toward the bottom the cape flares and is finished in a wide scalloped edge, which is much longer at the back. An amusing and cleverly done novelty is an enormous bow of the mink with crosswise bands of the fur.

A cape of different pattern, which is especially designed to be worn over an evening gown without crushing it, is made by joining ermine in long, narrow strips in such a way that they form diagonal lines as the wrap is drawn scarf-fashion over one shoulder. A long collar is made of natural marten.

Sports Fur Coats.

Fur coats named "sports" are uncommonly interesting this season. They lack the bizarre tone of past years and are much finer, both in quality and type, and serviceable for many different occasions. Many "new" furs are presented—being the hides of the same familiar animals given novel names. Madeleine Vionnet uses a sheared goat skin dyed a golden beige. Its wide, flaring cuffs and a diagonal collar, tapering to the waist, are of goat hide that is unshorn. One hears and sees a great deal about shaved lamb, which is extremely popular for sports and daytime coats in youthful models.

To the possessors of Hudson seal coats comes the assurance that Hudson seal is to be brought back into vogue as a relief from the flood of fancy furs with which we have been deluged. Henri Verger of Paris puts collars and cuffs of the flat brown striped fur on his Hudson seal coats, just as does Gruenwaldt, who further elaborates a black coat with a ladder design of mink tails running from collar to hem on the center back. In spite of the great variety of novelty furs introduced the last few seasons one saw at the fashionable Paris gathering places last winter principally coats of mink. According to the French fashionists, this is due to the innate sense of thrift of the Frenchwomen, who demand that fur coats must wear indefinitely, and is not to be taken as a guide for America, where such a fragile but attractive fur as shaved lamb, American broadtail, obtains the vogue that its beauty warrants. Either in gray or beige, with self-collars or matching fur, this fur makes many of the season's most charming coats. One of these, a straight coat in light beige broadtail, had the shawl collar and all edges bordered with an inch-and-a-half band of the same skin in brown. This same brown encircled the single deep patch pocket on the right side and also made a large flower for the lapel.

London Turns to Relief Measures

Refugees Return to Dig Among Wreckage For Their Belongings—No Further Overflow Expected.

London, Jan. 10 (AP)—The fury of the Thames has spent itself and London today turned to measures of relief and to repairing the damage wrought by flood waters Saturday.

The tide today reached its height at 2:46 a. m. and subsided without damage. It was below Saturday's high level and experts believe that danger is past. Precautions against further deaths and destruction are being maintained and the barriers against a new rush of water were strengthened continually.

The Port of London Authority said no further overflow need be expected and refugees returned to dig among the wreckage and slime of their home for their belongings.

Art treasures in the Tate Gallery, the National Museum of Art, declared better in the flood than had been anticipated. Water colors and chalk drawings in the collection of 19,000 works by J. M. W. Turner, were dried out with little loss of brilliancy.

Gift to T. B. Hospital.

The Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital is in receipt of a generous donation of $70 from J. T. Johnson of Kingston, with his best wishes for a Happy New Year. This gift, like the many other similar contributions received during the holiday time, will be applied to the Patients' Welfare Fund which is drawn upon for necessities for the patients' welfare and comfort that would be unprovided for otherwise.

straight and wide at the hand, are finished with a cuff of the same ermine applied with the lines of the fur running across the sleeve. There is also a very deep shawl collar, again of the same ermine. Another ermine wrap delightful in feeling and color is dyed a shade known as honey beige. In it the skins are joined in narrow strips. The sleeves are plain, with no cuffs, and the voluminous shawl collar is made of fox dyed in the same shade as the coat. A shawl collar of this kind is used on far the greater number of wraps and is especially good on the wrap-around coat model. Usually it is made of a fur contrasting with that of the coat, but some of the handomest wraps shown by the house of Max and others have coat, collar and cuffs all of one fur.

Very Embarrassing

A professional model was one night in the nude before a dozen men who were intent on getting every detail of the fleeting hour, in a silence broken only by the nervous scratching of charcoal on paper, when an accident occurred which throws an old light on feminine psychology, relates Walt McDougall, the cartoonist, in "This is the Life!"
Only a minute or so remained before the period of rest, when, with a sharp shriek of genuine alarm, the lively model leaped from the stand and fled outside the circle of light focused upon her form.
"I saw a man looking down upon me from that window next door," she managed to explain when her agitation had subsided.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Jan. 10 (P)—A promising rally in the stock market today after announcement of an unexpectedly large increase of half a million tons in unfilled orders of U. S. Steel Corporation, was nipped in the bud by a flood of selling orders shortly after midday. U. S.
Steel which had led the recovery with an advance of nearly 2 points to 150 1/2, suddenly plunged to 146 1/2 as large amounts of the stock were offered.

The sudden slump in Steel common dismayed operators for the advance working with other prominent stocks, and a hasty unloading was soon in progress in many quarters of the list. General Motors toppled from a day's high of 134 to 130 1/2 and Radio Corporation, which had reached 104 1/2, retreated to 99.
The growing discussion of the brokers' loan situation had made it difficult for pools to attract a following, and the general market was inclined to sag during the morning.
Despite some intermittent rallies, a few specialties, such as Borden,
Christie Brown and Jones Brothers Tea, made the most progress, with the movement in the rails featured by a rise in Texas and Pacific in anticipation of an early inauguration of dividends.

When prices began to sag, however, losses of 2 points or so were quite numerous among the inductals. Some high priced issues had exceptional declines. Midland Steel Products preferred and American Machine and Foundry falling 10 points. Insurance 7. International Harvester 6 1/2 and Laclede Gas, Case
Threshing Machine and Brooklyn
Edison 5 to 5 1/2. Montgomery Ward, Nash Motors, International Match preferred, Purity Baking B and A.
M. Byers also were conspicuously heavy.

Call money ruling at 4 1/2, with the possibility of a further stiffen-ing later in the day, was cited as an influence in the broad selling movement after noon. Trading was in heavy volume, running close to 2,000,000 shares in the first three hours.

Society Notes

Keyser-Boughton.

On Sunday, January 8, Walter J.
Keyser and Margaret Boughton, both of this city, were united in marriage at the Congregational parsonage.
The Rev. F. W. Moot performed the ceremony. The bride couple were accompanied by Edward F. Peterson and Mrs. Thomas Hughes.

25th Wedding Anniversary.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Terpening surprised them at their home in Rifton on Monday evening in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. They had as their guests the royal entourage of Rifton from Lake View Inn, who sang and played many of the old time songs, also violin selections by Miss Fraleigh. The evening was spent very pleasantly. Refreshments and ice cream were served. The guests departed at a late hour wishing Mr.
and Mrs. Terpening twenty-five years more of happy married life.

A Birthday Party.

On Saturday, January 7, Mrs.
Henry Berryann was very much surprised when a number of her friends and children gathered at her home, 120 Tremper avenue, the occasion being her 65th birthday. Her home presented a very pretty sight with the lovely decorations. The evening was enjoyably spent after which refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lee and children, George, Ella, Anna, Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Berryann and son, Harry, Mrs. Paul Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Berryann and sons, Ray, Alford, Charles, Roland, Kenneth, George Berryann and daughter, Gladys, John Hannon, Garfield Berryann and son, Harold, Mrs. H. Berryann and Jerry, and Anna and Rovina Berryann. At late hour the guests departed wishing Mrs. Berryann many more happy birthdays.

The Coterie.

On Saturday afternoon The Coterie began its meetings for the new year.
Mrs. Hall being the hostess. Mrs.
Monroe had the first paper for the day and admirably presented her subject, "Norway's Contribution to Education," especially stressing the most excellent school system. This paper was followed by another of much interest on "Modern Vikings," given by Mrs. Eastman, who devoted not a little of her article to Amundsen. The Coterie completed its plans for entertaining the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs at the January open meeting. This open meeting will be on Saturday afternoon, January 21, in the chapel of the Rondout Presbyterian Church, when Crystal Byrd, presented by the Friends' Society of Philadelphia will speak on "The Negro Spiritual and its Significance." The next meeting of The Coterie will be on January 28 at the home of Mrs. Harry Smith.

Sorosis and Twentieth Century Club.

The members of Sorosis and the Twentieth Century Club met jointly at the home of Mrs. Hendricks on Albany avenue on Monday afternoon and listened with keen interest to an address given by Miss Lyon of Albany on "Current Events." Miss Lyon considered the Mexican and Nicaraguan problems and devoted some time to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh as the ambassador of peace to the South American countries. Miss Lyon was of the opinion that most friendly relations and a better understanding between the two Americas was imminent, as was to be noted by the coming Pan-American Conference at Havana which will be attended by President Coolidge as well as by Col. Lindergh. Miss Lyon also reviewed some of the subjects she spoke upon at her last appearing before the two clubs, bringing those subjects to date. It was a very interesting and profitable meeting. Next Monday Sorosis will meet with Mrs. Schornstheimer and the next meeting of the Twentieth Century Club will be in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Ward B. Everett on Wall street.

Monday Club.

The first regular meeting of The Monday Club was held at the home of Mrs. George Burgevin on Johnson avenue on Monday afternoon. Following the reports of the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Burgevin, Mrs. Reed gave a brief report of the last executive committee meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs, in which the Federation extended its thanks to the Monday Club for its cooperation and assistance in making the recent card party for the benefit of the Federation the success it was. It was also announced that the January open meeting of the Federation would take place on Saturday afternoon, January 21, at 2:30 o'clock in the chapel of the Rondout Presbyterian Church, at that time the Coterie will present Crystal Byrd, who comes from the Friends' Society of Philadelphia, and will speak on "The Negro Spiritual and its Significance." All Monday Club members were invited to be present. Mrs. Searle gave a short, itemized report of the recent Federation card party, she being the representative from the Monday Club, announcing a net sum of $266.86. The Monday Club expressed to Mrs. Searle their thanks for her efforts on their behalf. The secretary was instructed to send a letter of thanks to the Atherton Club for their invitation to hear Dr. Davidson of Vassar give a lecture in the chapel of The First Reformed Church recently. Attendance upon the lecture had been considered a privilege by the Monday Club members. During the holidays while at the home of her sister at Montclair, N. J., Miss Manning of the Monday Club and teacher of Latin at the high school, had met with the grievous loss by death of her mother, who had been ill for some time. It was voted to send Miss Manning a letter of sympathy. Word has just been received of the death of Mrs. Ogden
F. Winne, one of the oldest members of the Monday Club, on Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Suro, in Elizabeth, N. J. Members of the Monday Club will meet in the residence of the First Reformed Church shortly before the service at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to attend the funeral service.

the piano. Majority certificates were presented to Henry C. Dittus, Chester H. Bonesteel, Jess W.
Meyers, Crurus B. Dingman, Alton
Kirkpatrick and Edgar H. Lawrence.

According to Hoyle

Even among the elders we see so little of the old-fashioned fastidiousness nowadays that we were attracted by an incident on the street last week.
We saw a white-haired gentleman approach two boys who were playing with a kitten and join them. Then we saw him extract from his pocket a pair of gloves, return one of them and pull the other carefully over his right hand.
This completed, he employed his gloved hand to pat the kitten and tickle its ribs for a minute or two. He then arose, carefully removed his glove, replaced it in his pocket, bowed to the two boys and stroled on—

Would You Be Rich?

So many want to be rich. Are you sure you want to be rich? Don't you get your greatest happiness from doing the everyday things that bring you a living? Aren't the very things—at least some of them—that you have to do because you are not rich, the things that bring you your greatest content, your greatest peace of mind?
Think of your life without the necessity of earning a living, without the necessity of work. Would it be a failure, complete, happy life?—Grove Patterson, in the Mobile Register.

It was voted to send flowers for the funeral and also to send Mrs.
Suro a letter of sympathy. Resolutions on the death of Mrs. Winne will be presented at the next meeting of The Monday Club. The paper for the day, on "Confucianism," given by Mrs. William Simmons, gave a very interesting account of the life of the great Chinese teacher and told of the influence of his teachings. Next Monday the club will meet with Mrs. Lawton, when Miss DuBois will present her subject, "The Flowery Kingdom."

nine months and seventeen days.
Interment was in Poughkeepsie.

The funeral of Joseph D. Rodman was held Monday from his late residence, 45 Levan street, at 5 p. m.
The Rev. Father Burke, assistant rector of Holy Cross Church, conducted the services. A large number of floral offerings testified to the esteem in which a circle of friends held the deceased. Interment was in Montrose cemetery. The bearers were O.
M. Wood, Joseph Murtha, S. O. Dixon, Joseph Allinton, William Shultis and George Messenger.

The funeral of Mrs. Frederick Conner was held from her late home, 67
Howland avenue, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services were largely attended by her many relatives and friends who came to pay their last respects to her memory. The bearers were members of the family. Interment was in the family plot in the Rosendale Plains cemetery. The services at the house and the committal services were in charge of the Rev.

brothers, Joseph and Oscar Hornbeck, eleven grandchildren and two great grandchildren and a host of friends to mourn his loss. Interment took place Sunday in Fairview Cemetery, Stone Ridge.

The funeral of DeWitt Egnor, who died in this city January 6, was held on Monday afternoon from the funeral chapel of Thomas J. Wolf.
The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Lucas Boeve and were attended by a large number of relatives and friends who paid their last respects to one who was held in high esteem among them. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful. Members of the family acted as casket bearers. Interment was in the family plot in Wiltwyck Cemetery, the Rev. Dr. Boeve officiating at the grave.

The funeral of Wilhelmina Rathgeber, wife of Fred Leverent, was held Monday at 1:30 p. m. from her late home, 11 Gross street, and at the Immanuel Lutheran Church at 2 o'clock where the services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Witte. During the services the children's choir sang. A profusion of beautiful flowers testified to the high esteem in which the deceased was held. Interment was in Montrose cemetery.
The bearers were Walter, Andrew and Albert Rathgeber, Emil Schoenfeldt,
Stephen Fassbender and Eugene Koltz.

The funeral of Francis J. Grimes was held from the home of his sister, Mrs. Rose Cody, on Canal street, Port Ewen, Monday morning, and thence to the Church of the Presentation in that village where a requiem Mass was celebrated for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Martin P. Leddy.
The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful and the funeral cortege to St. Mary's cemetery, this city, was a large one. Interment was made in the family plot where Father Leddy had charge of the committal services.
The bearers were John Ward, Patrick Tucker, James Fee, Thomas Mc-Donald, William Donnelly and Peter Taylor.

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine O'Halloran was held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Grady, at Lake Hill, Friday morning, and thence to St. John's Church at Bristol Hill where a Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Peter Spellman. A number of spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards were placed upon the casket. The body was taken Saturday to Worcester, Mass., where a number of relatives and friends reside, by Undertaker James V. Halloran. Interment was made in the family plot in St. John's cemetery at Clinton Mass., where the Rev. Joseph Barry officiated at the services at the grave.

Dennis S. Johnson, a veteran of the Civil War, died Monday evening at his residence, 47 Van Buren street.
Mr. Johnson was widely known. He is survived by two brothers, George Johnson of this city and Daniel of Clifton, N. J., and one sister, Mrs.
Louise Fitzgerald of this city. Mr.
Johnson was a member of the G. A.
R.; Northern Rose Lodge, No. 24; Knights of Pythias, E. & W. H.; Rising Sons and daughters of Benevolence; J. R. B. Smith Grand Lodge, Odd Fellows and the Household of Ruth. Funeral from the late residence Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and from St. Mark's Church, Foxhall avenue, at 2 p. m. Interment in Mt. Zion cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Benjamin Van Keuren, who died on Friday after a brief illness, was held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Saulpaugh, 152 Ten Brook avenue, this morning at 8:45, thence to St.

Mary's Church where at 9:30 a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. William H. Kennedy. There was a pro-<

St. Mary's Holy Name Meeting

Joseph F. Sullivan Chosen President Work of Past Year Reviewed—
William Rudolf Gives Interesting Talk.

Approximately 200 members attended the regular monthly meeting of St. Mary's Holy Name Society held in the school hall Sunday night. About 10 new members were introduced by the spiritual director, the Rev. P. N. FitzPatrick, and officers elected for the ensuing year. The Rev. Father gave a talk given by William Rudolf, grand knight of Morris Park Council, Knights of Columbus, Brooklyn, on practical Catholicity and boys' welfare.

Joseph F. Sullivan was unanimously chosen president, Thomas Feeney vice president, Joseph Kelly, Edward Kennedy and Salim Krayem were unanimously re-elected to serve as secretary, treasurer and marshal, respectively.

President Sullivan in thanking the Rev. Father for placing him at the head of the society urged the cooperation of every member in order to carry out the progressive measures sponsored by the organization in the past. The outgoing president, Edward P. Ward, was highly commended for his good work as leader of the association for the past several years. He thanked the men for their hearty cooperation whenever called upon. He mentioned especially the executive committee composed of Thomas Feeney, chairman; Frank O'Reilly, Patrick Fogarty, Edward J. Abernethy, John Rice, Philip Feeney, James M. Murphy and David L. Long. Mr. Long received special commendation for his untiring efforts and was commended for the successful card of boxing bouts held in St. Mary's Hall last year made possible through his labor. Robert Rhinehardt, Jr., also received special mention for his work in the works of the organization.

Father FitzPatrick Praises Men.
The Rev. Father FitzPatrick had many words of praise for the organization. He mentioned the men's striking manifestation of faith and recalled the giant Holy Name Rally attended by the local branch at the Yankee Stadium last summer. He also mentioned the welfare work being promoted by the society through the executive committee's operations. The charity work was referred to by the priest to let the members know of the good causes they are making possible although the names of those helped were not divulged.

Boys' Welfare Work.
Mr. Rudolf impressed the Holy Name very much with his talk on practical Catholicity and boys' welfare work. He urged the men to adhere to the teachings of their faith which would have a great bearing on the living of a profitable life both spiritually and materially. He urged that the church's teachings be studied by every Catholic and pointed out the features contained therein. He also recommended the study of the church's laws so that those outside the universal faith might be able to learn from any Catholic things wished to be known about the church. The speaker gave several examples why the believers of the Catholic faith should practice it in every day life and be able to inform members of other creeds who ask questions concerning it.

The talk on boys' welfare, which was less lengthy than that concerning the faith, proved just as interesting. Mr. Rudolf, who is a graduate of a course in boyology promoted by the Knights of Columbus, explained the various desirable ways of handling youths. He clearly brought out that the boys of today are to be the Americans of the future and deserve the help of the present fathers to make them citizens of the best calibre. He urged the Holy Name to cooperate with the Knights of Columbus in educating the boys of the present day so that they may make representative Catholics and Americans in the future.

Membership Increasing.
A rising vote of thanks was given Mr. Rudolf in appreciation of his talk. Many new faces are seen at each meeting of the Holy Name Society and the membership is rapidly increasing. The talks given by prominent Catholic laymen prove of great interest to the men. Principal P. H. Cullen of Public School No. 3 addressed the St. Mary's Holy Name Society at the December meeting and his talk on education was enjoyed to a great extent.

Every man of St. Mary's parish is invited to attend the meetings. A record attendance is forecast for the next meeting and reception of communion in February. A speaker will be present at the meeting to talk on an interesting subject.

West Park Church Auxiliary.
The Woman's Auxiliary of the West Park Ascension Church will hold the annual meeting for election of officers Saturday, January 14, at 2 p. m. at the rectory. All members are urged to be present.

Use your pleasures sparingly; if you use them too much, they will bore you.

How Young Inventor Evolved Cone Speaker

With radio engineers being constantly called in to improve and aid in the development of talking motion pictures, it is interesting to note that one of the most noteworthy advancements in the radio industry can directly be attributed to the talking picture.

Back in 1919, C. L. Farrand, radio and acoustical engineer, was engaged in working on a device for the amplification of sound from synchronized records designed to run simultaneously with motion pictures. In an effort to find a reproducer sufficiently loud to fill the larger halls without the blur and inefficiency of the then known phonograph horn, Mr. Farrand experimented with many types of vibrating mediums and diaphragms.

It was in this experimentation that the idea of the application of a conical diaphragm of large size for the reproduction of radio signals was born. The present-day radio loud speaker is the result of this young inventor's ingenuity.

HICKMAN AGAIN IN THE SPOTLIGHT

How Washing-Soda Cleans

Common salt is the basis of washing-soda. The principle is that it is treated with sulphuric acid and the product roasted. The soda is then dissolved out with water, and finally the latter evaporated. What is left is the commercial quality of carbonate of soda used by chemists.

Its cleansing action is twofold. In solution in water it forms a free alkali, which has a chemical effect upon grease. The dirt on clothes is fixed by a film of grease; the alkali attacks this film, dissolves it, and leaves the dirt free to be washed off with ease. At the same time it also helps the grease in the soap to dissolve, so assisting its action in the business of the wash tub.

How to Clean Gold Braid

When gold braid and fringe trimming have become tarnished, the very best way to restore them to their natural state is by mixing a paste of one ounce fine staid bread, one-half ounce magnesia, and one-half ounce cream of tartar, and moisten this with a little denatured alcohol. Apply with a small clean paint brush and when thoroughly dry dust off the crumbs with a piece of chamois leather or soft cloth. The trimming will have lost all trace of tarnish. This method will also clean gold lace.

Sterling

The custom of marking silver has prevailed in England since the reign of Edward I.

High and Low "Tides" in Human Blood Flow

Daily tides in blood pressure, heart beat and other functions of the human body, almost as regular as the tides of the sea, may be caused by mysterious forces beyond the earth, as are the ocean tides. Such is the statement of Dr. P. E. Morhardt, French physiologist, who suggests that they may be produced by daily variations in electrification of the air, says Popular Science Monthly.

It is well known to physicians, Doctor Morhardt points out, that the temperature of the body rises slowly in the forenoon and reaches its height at about four or five o'clock in the afternoon. During the evening it recedes, reaching "low tide" in the early morning. Similar high and low tides at about the same hours are found also in the human pulse rate, in the amount of oxygen used in breathing, and in blood pressure. A strange fact is that the flow of tides in persons who work at night is no different from that of persons who are active during the day. That sunlight is not responsible is evidenced by the fact, according to Doctor Morhardt, that in northern countries like Ireland, where there is a season when the sun never sets, the same rhythm of bodily tides persists. Hence mankind has daily tides in bodily functions, or some external cause is affecting us all in the same way.
